

Know “The Five Protective Factors!”

- 1. Parent Resilience: The ability to recover from difficult life experiences and often to be strengthened by and even transformed by those experiences
- 2. Social Emotional Competence of Children: Family and child interactions that help children develop the ability to communicate clearly, recognize and regulate their emotions, and establish and maintain relationships
- 3. Knowledge of Parenting and Child Development: Understanding child development and parenting strategies that support physical, cognitive, language and social emotional development
- 4. Social Connections: Positive relationships that provide emotional, informational, instrumental and spiritual support
- 5. Concrete Support in Times of Need: Access to concrete support and services that address a family’s needs and help minimize stress caused by challenges

The Wisconsin Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Board utilizes the Strengthening Families™ Protective Factors Framework to guide its own work and the efforts it supports. The Protective Factors Framework helps to identify and build upon the strengths, assets and needs of families as a means to simultaneously enhance the well-being of children while reducing the risk of child maltreatment. It is an approach and not a program and is designed to be incorporated in the everyday actions of those who work with families. Consequently, the Protective Factors Framework is applicable across the range of programs, service providers, organizations and audiences.

The Framework was developed by the Center for the Study of Social Policy utilizing findings from field observations, a thorough review of research, and input from prevention and early childhood experts.

Their efforts resulted in a strengths-based, evidence-informed framework composed of five protective factors. This effort is aimed at promoting the understanding and capacity for developing and enhancing five foundational protective factors.

Strengthening Families™ Protective Factors

COURSE TRAINING

BRINGING THE PROTECTIVE FACTORS FRAMEWORK TO LIFE IN YOUR WORK

SHEBOYGAN

6 Sessions - March to May

The Center for the Study of Social Policy research has shown that protective factors:

- Benefit all families
- Reduce the risk of child maltreatment
- Strengthen families
- Promote optimal child and youth development

THE CURRICULUM

In 2012, the National Alliance of Children's Trust & Prevention Funds developed the Strengthening Families™ Protective Factors Framework into a curriculum called Bringing the Protective Factors Framework to Life in Your Work. It is designed to assist professionals who work with families and children to promote the optimal development of all children while protecting vulnerable children from harm.

The training consists of six 2-hour modules that share ways to help practitioners, community members and parents better understand and address family needs utilizing a strengths-based lens.

The curriculum . . .

. . . Is built on the premise that every family has strengths

. . . Provides a detailed explanation of the five protective factors

. . . Focuses on helping to make "small but significant changes" in practice and service provision, family life, parenting and child development

THE BENEFITS TO YOU!

Participants will leave with:

- A better understanding of how to utilize the Protective Factors Framework in their work to strengthen families
- An understanding of how culture impacts perspectives and how to best work with families
- A renewed appreciation for the value of parents as partners in their work
